Graduate Education in Medical Sciences (GEMS) Program

A certificate program for MIT PhD students enrolled in MIT’s School of Engineering or School of Science

• Are you interested in LEARNING ABOUT MEDICINE and how your work may have relevance to medicine?

• Do you want FIRST-HAND CLINICAL EXPERIENCES to see where engineering and science meet real world health care?

• Do you want to build a professional network that includes physicians and physician-scientists from the HARVARD MEDICAL COMMUNITY?

• Are you early in your program and interested in ideas for MEDICALLY-RELEVANT THESIS RESEARCH?

• Are you near graduation and interested in POST-DOC OPPORTUNITIES IN A MEDICAL SETTING?

• Do you aspire to create a BIOMEDICAL BUSINESS?

If you answered YES to any of these, find out more about GEMS!

Application Deadline: Friday, November 13, 2015

GEMS INFORMATION SESSION

Friday, October 9th

2-3 pm, E25-101

For more information: http://hst.mit.edu/gems

RSVP to: Dominique Altarejos dom_alta@mit.edu